30+ Cozy Ways to Decorate Your Porch for Fall

Give your porch a fall-ready makeover to celebrate the season with plenty of curb appeal.

- [ ] Create a Define Color Palette - Go modern with an updated color palette .
- [ ] Skip Out on Carving Pumpkins - Instead of spending hours carving or painting pumpkins, add some flair by tying patterned ribbon around them.
- [ ] Pretty Up The Porch - Spruce up your entry with these simple, seasonal, use-what-you-have ideas.
- [ ] Decorate with Corn Husks - Add seasonal curb appeal with these easy DIYs.
- [ ] Go All Out - Sometimes, more is more!
- [ ] Choose Unexpected Door Decorations - When it comes to curb appeal, your front door is prime real estate.
- [ ] Plant Seasonal Blooms in Rustic Planters - The summer days of tending to your garden may be dwindling but garden lovers rejoice.
- [ ] Make the Most of a Small Space
- [ ] Spell It Out - Reclaimed wood or shipping pallets are the perfect base for an oversized sign with a distressed finish to adorn your porch.
- [ ] Turn Pumpkins into a House Number Display
- [ ] Make Use of What's Already There - If your porch is always adorned in furniture, transform it for fall with a few quick updates.
- [ ] Decorate With Corn Stalks - Large corn stalks are definitely eye-catching as visitors approach this porch.
- [ ] Welcome the Season with a Chalkboard Sign - This porch is cute, of course, but thanks to its chalkboard sign (which can be updated for Halloween or Thanksgiving).
- [ ] Repurpose a Little Red Wagon - Create a cute fall-ready display using a repurposed little red wagon with room for tons of pumpkins, gourds, and antique finds.
- [ ] DIY Your Own Pumpkins - When it comes to fall decorating, it's not a question of whether you'll have pumpkins, it's where you'll put them.

- [ ] Create a Cozy Seating Area - Make your porch bench or swing the ideal spot for relaxing in the crisp fall weather by adding cozy pillows and blankets.
- [ ] Add a Rocking Chair - There's no better spot to relax on a chilly day than a rocking chair (and under a plaid blanket, no less!) with hot apple cider in hand.
- [ ] Flank The Door - Seeing as the vines on this porch already frame the home's front door, it only makes sense that any decorations should do the same.
- [ ] Display Thrift Shop Finds - Thrifty finds such as a metal pumpkin candle holder and shabby chic frames blend in with seasonal touches in this harvest display.
- [ ] Welcome Guests - A rustic sign will add plenty of country charm while setting an inviting atmosphere for your guests.
- [ ] Use a Light Color Palette - Add a touch of sophistication to your porch by forgoing the classic reds, oranges, and yellows for decorations in light blues and whites.
- [ ] Repurpose a Ladder - While this blogger used a ladder to decorate her garden, we think the seasonal display would be well suited for a porch, too.
- [ ] Create Symmetry - Load your porch with an abundance of seasonal flair.
- [ ] Paint a Pumpkin Crate - After your trip to the pumpkin patch, try adding some DIY flair to more than just your gourds.
- [ ] Put It In Lights - These cheerful pumpkins were made to be in the spotlight. Spell out "fall" using marquee light letters on pumpkins displayed near your front door.
- [ ] Alternate Flowers and Gourds - Line your steps using pumpkins and mums—a classic fall combination.
- [ ] Coordinate Colors - Nothing says autumn like burnt orange and burgundy hues. A cohesive color scheme is the best way to tie all your decorations together.
- [ ] Add Pillows to Keep Things Cozy - Add warmth to a basic bench with an oversized burlap pillow and plaid blankets.
- [ ] When in Doubt, Add More Gourds - Stack pumpkins of different shapes and sizes on top of each other to make the most out of a small space.
- [ ] Inspire Passersby - Remind guests what the season is really about with a cute chalkboard sign.
- [ ] Hang a Banner - What better way to make guests feel at home than with a friendly banner made with burlap? We love how this one is coordinated to match the pumpkins and mums.
- [ ] Decorate Outdoor Lanterns - Faux leaves and berries give basic outdoor lanterns a fall-ready update.
- [ ] Easily Transition to Halloween - Update your fall decor with a few more festive finds like jack-o-lanterns and crows come October.
- [ ] Attach Faux Leaves to Your Door - All you need is hot glue to attach leaves to a glass door.
- [ ] Happy Fall Y'all - Not sure where to start? This cute phrase will always be a hit!
