

Chicago Spring Bucket List 2018 (Not For Tourist Edition)

Spring is finally here! After what has felt like a really long winter, here are some things you can look forward to doing in the city this spring season.

- Go to Cubs opening day on April 9th
- Be one of the first to eat at Smoke Daddy, Big Star, or enjoy a spiked milkshake at West Town Bakery at the new Zachary Hotel in Wrigley.
- Enjoy your first drink of the season on your favorite patio or on the Riverwalk
- Visit Jackson Park and see the cherry blossoms
- After going to Jackson Park stop by Stony Island Arts Bank to see their amazing library
- Plan a donut tour around the city (walk to each location) <https://goo.gl/AZRCnf>
- Walk or bike the lakefront to or from downtown
- Get tickets to the Chicago Flower & Garden Show at Navy
- Go to Baconfest the weekend of April 6th
- Enjoy cocktails on your favorite rooftop or try a new rooftop <https://goo.gl/b6hgSH>
- Dine at the new The Lakefront Restaurant and maybe even a show at Theater on the Lake
- Attend a spring wine festival <https://goo.gl/RyFtcQ>
- Spend Saturday morning at the farmer's market starting May 13th
- Plan a Chicago Shopping Tour and shop for your spring wardrobe <https://goo.gl/G223Qs>
- See the tulips along Michigan Avenue
- Enjoy a picnic in the park or along the lakefront
- Take your dog to the dog beach at Montrose Beach
- Visit a local flower shop in Chicago and treat yourself to some spring flowers
