NEW GECKO OWNER CHECKLIST!

Leopard geckos have been popular pets among reptile fans for a long time, and their ease of care and even temperament make it obvious why this is the case. They eat and breed more readily than nearly any other type of lizard, and can be cared for effectively even by amateurs. Of course, it's still important to know about how to take care of these fascinating lizards.

STARTER KIT REQUIREMENTS FOR 1 NEW LEOPARD GECKO

- [ ] 10 gallon or larger glass aquarium
- [ ] Screen top(to keep the gecko in and any other animals out)
- [ ] Reptile carpet
- [ ] Spray bottle for misting
- [ ] Reptile cage thermometers(One for the warm side and one for the cool side)
- [ ] Food dish
- [ ] Water dish
- [ ] Moist hide
- [ ] Hide for the warm side
- [ ] Hide for the cooler side
- [ ] Rough "rock,bark hide" to rub the shed off with
- [ ] Under tank heater-- NOT A HEATED ROCK YOU PUT IN TO THE CAGE!!!!
- [ ] Nocturnal light(nightime bulb) and fixture
- [ ] Daytime light and fixture

FOOD

- [ ] Appropriate size crickets or mealworms
- [ ] Cricket "keeper"
- [ ] Cricket food,water gel, and calcium dust

Make and Share Free Checklists
checkli.com