FOCUSING ON THE CLASSROOM: A CHECKLIST FOR TEACHERS

Noteworthy Concepts to Keep in Mind as You Start Your Career:

Communicate with other new teachers. You will discover that most new teachers are experiencing similar problems and you may be able to help each other solve them.
Develop a support network . Colleagues of all ages and experience levels, former teachers and professional organizations—the profession is filled with individuals who are eager to share their time to help ensure your success.
Develop your own teaching style. Use what works best for you. Work with your personality, not against it.
Build students' confidence. Students will become self-confident when they know they can trust you.
Be consistent, yet flexible. Do not vary expectations and format greatly, yet keep in mind that each student is different.
Expect students to respect others and model that behavior consistently. Correct inappropriate behavior promptly and fairly.
Be prepared for every lesson. Make a plan and stick to it. Think of your plan as a checklist of things to accomplish within a given time, and teach every class to the top of your game. Never teach "by the seat of your pants."
Write down all contest and festival deadlines on a calendar. Make sure you meet deadlines early. Many entries are by postmark deadline and you can't always be sure the envelope or package is postmarked the day it is mailed.
Always be on the lookout for new music. Visit local music stores; attend conferences, conventions and concerts in your search for new music. Mark up programs and keep them in a separate file so that you are always ready to order should funds suddenly become available (this occurs frequently toward the end of the year when fiscal budgets have to be expended).
Select music for the students that they will learn from and enjoy As the students become more informed consumers of music, they will value a wider variety of literature.
Order extra scores for solos or parts in advance for future concerts and festivals Publishers get thousands of requests at

MOST IMPORTANTLY, make sure the students know you care. Students will not care what you know until they know that you care. As a wise student teaching supervisor once said, "You've got to love the kids." Make and Share Free Checklists checkli.com
