Step Two: Thyroid Neck Check

- ☐ One self-check that may detect some thyroid problems is called the "thyroid neck check." To perform this test, hold a mirror up so that you can see your neck, just below your Adam's apple and above your collarbone. Then, tip your head back, and keeping an eye on this area, take a drink of water and swallow.
- ☐ As you swallow, look at your neck. Watch carefully for any bulges, enlargement, protrusions, or unusual appearances in this area. Repeat this process several times. If you see any bulges, protrusions, lumps or anything unusual, see your doctor for a full evaluation.
- ☐ It's important to note that the thyroid neck check can't rule out the possibility that you have a thyroid condition. It can, however, help you to identify a particularly enlarged thyroid or visible thyroid nodule.
