The Best Facebook Pictures: Tips for Taking Likable Selfies

Any time you get your photo taken, you want to look your best. When you are also the one taking the photo, you must fulfill the roles of both photographer and subject. The perfect selfies make for the best Facebook pictures, so use these tips to take photos of yourself that your friends and family are sure to like.

- [ ] DO: Get camera-ready - Before you snap a selfie, check yourself in the mirror to make sure you look great. Change clothes, or put on some makeup if you feel it is necessary. The best way to approach how you look in a selfie is to dress as if you are about to go out for the night, even if you are taking the photo during the day. Those who see your selfie don't know the time; they just see that you look great.

- [ ] DO: Find the perfect angle - It sometimes takes several pictures before you come up with the angle that best shows your face and body. You probably have one side you find more attractive than the other, so start with that side. Take practice shots from the left and right, always tilting your head sideways. If you have a double chin, tilting your head helps disguise it in a selfie. Do not share a selfie that looks tasteless or grotesque.

- [ ] DON'T: Forget about your background - Even when you take the time to look your best and find the perfect angle, you still must pay attention to what is going on in the background of your selfie. Do not take a selfie when your friends or family are standing behind you. This sometimes leads to photobombing, which, while funny, is likely not an ideal contribution to your selfie. Also remove any embarrassing items from the background, such as offensive posters or personal items that you prefer to keep private.

- [ ] DON'T: Forget to smile - With all the details involved in taking a good selfie, you risk forgetting about your facial expression when taking the photo. Make sure you smile as if you are posing for a professional photographer if you are going for that look. If you opt for a more serious facial expression, preview the picture first before sending it out via social media to make sure you express the emotion you want to convey.

- [ ] Selfies that make the best Facebook pictures are those that show you have taken time and care before snapping the picture. Make yourself, your family and your friends proud by showing off your best features in a tasteful way.
