Step 2 - Your business social media profiles are part of your brand. Be strategic!
Profile Photo: Post a professional profile photo that is recognizable on all your platforms and in real life. You can use Business Logo
Bio: Share about your business and expertise, link to your website, add a CTA.
Links: Be sure to include links to your website or landing page; many social networks let you add a link in your About or other Bio spot and expand your message.
CTA: Include a call to action in your bio: Follow Us, Visit Our Website, Sign Up for Our Newsletter, Download Our eBook, etc
Cover Photos let you display your personality, share an upcoming event, promote a new product, send a key message or share important news.
Step 3 - Manage Pages and Profiles
Posts should be in your voice, on topic and relevant: if you're using social media for business, you may want to keep your personal opinions on your personal accounts.
Images get more views on social media so include photos, graphics, videos, gifs and infographics in your content strategy.
Engage in existing conversations about your category, interests or brand.
Tools Social Media Calendar let you plan and schedule your social media posts 1 day, 1 week, 1 month or even 1 year in advance.
Provide value and be useful - follow the 80/20 rule: 80% useful posts to provide information and resources in your area of expertise, only 20% selling your product or service.
Handle: Some platforms allow you to have both a name and a handle; ie on Twitter you could have both your name and your brand name.
Pin: Bios have limited real estate, Twitter and Facebook let you pin a post to the top of your news feed. Pin info you want viewers to know 1st like a sale, special event or key product feature
Follow users relevant to your message based on keywords, demographics or hashtags.
Set up your network notifications based on what actions you want to be notified about, and how frequently.
Step 4 - Daily Social Media Management Checklist for Sales Success
Engage with people you follow or are targeting (use your Lists).
Respond to all messages - even just a Like!
Like and retweet/reshare posts from industry influencers (hint: use your List!)
Thank retweeters for spreading your message.
Step 5 - Weekly Social Media Management Checklist for Sales Success
Research new prospects to follow and engage

Monitor the competition. When you add someone to a List they are notified: you may not want a list of Competitors, but a private list of "Industry Experts" could mask competitors.
Welcome new followers with a simple Thank You post or image and new followers' handle
Follow 2-3 new prospects: don't just follow, message them and introduce yourself and explain why you're connecting.
Follow 2-3 new influencers: introduce yourself and share why you're following them and your common interests; invite them to follow you back.
Schedule & review posts for the coming week:use a tool to plan and schedule posts: holidays, special sales or events, product releases; review scheduled posts to be sure they're still relevant
Step 6 - Monthly Social Media Management Checklist for Sales Success
Audit your social media profiles and make sure everything is accurate, links work, pinned posts are relevant, photos are current.
Analyze your social media results against your goals, and adjust your strategy as needed. Many social networks have analytics available, or create a report.
Step 7 - Annual Social Media Management Checklist for Sales Success
Set goals for your annual social media sales and engagement.
Create and annual social media content strategy.
