

What's The Difference?

Orientation_vs_Onboarding

How long is it?

- ☐ Orientation: 1 or more days when new hire first starts
- ☐ Onboarding: up to a year

What do you learn?

- ☐ Orientation: Organizational guidelines, policies, & other information all employees need to know
- ☐ Onboarding: Specific, position-related information, insights from managers, mentors, & co-workers

What do you do?

- ☐ Orientation: Learn the company basics, complete payroll & benefits paperwork, tour the workplace. get introduced to co-workers
- ☐ Onboarding: Learn about your role, receive guidance from management, build work relationships, provide feedback.

Where do you learn it?

- ☐ Orientation: A conference room or online portal.
- ☐ Onboarding: Anywhere, depending on the new hire's role & responsibilities.

Who do you learn from?

- ☐ Orientation: HR professionals & managers
- ☐ Onboarding: Managers, mentors, & co-workers

What's next?

- ☐ Orientation: New hire still considered a new employee & has to be led through onboarding process.
- ☐ Onboarding: Employee is fully integrated into the organization & is a productive member of the team who can be relied on.

Make and Share Free Checklists
checkli.com