

20 Tips for Teachers Teaching from Home for the First Time During Distance Learning

I have been blown away by the advice being shared by teachers who are already figuring out how to do distance learning.

- 1. Keep it simple and consistent.
- 2. Be engaging and interactive.
- 4. Create a routine.
- 3. Set office hours and stick to them. Close your laptop after hours.
- 5. When recording videos, sit with the wall behind you.
- 6. Teach in small chunks. Spread a lesson over days.
- 7. Make a guide for the entire week on one page or in one place.
- 8. Be patient. Accept the learning curve.
- 9. Document everything.
- 10. Call you homeroom students once a week.
- 11. Make time for yourself to disconnect and unplug.
- 12. Teach procedures first before you get into new content.
- 13. Lots of coffee. Pace yourself.
- 14. Good humor is essential.
- 15. Don't expect perfection. Expect mistakes.
- 16. Cut way back on the pace of learning.

- 17. Be flexible.
- 18. Keep things in perspective.
- 19. Don't compare yourself with other teachers.
- 20. Utilize tools that are free right now.
- Bonus Tip: Take your work email OFF your phone.
