

Enjoy Christmas on a Tight Budget

Sometimes holidays can get expensive! Here's how to participate in the festivities this season while saving a few extra bucks.

- ☐ Gift a thoughtful, heartfelt letter or handmade card instead of a random object. Take a step further, and safeguard it in a personalized frame.
- ☐ Bring your own eggnog and thermos of hot cocoa to tour neighborhood Christmas lights
- ☐ Shop at consignment stores or even find various objects/toys on <https://www.craigslist.com> & <https://www.ebay.com> on discount
- ☐ Focus your activities on experiences & family values rather than presents & treats
- ☐ Send your holiday card/photo via email instead of regular snail mail. This will help you save on printing & postage
- ☐ Make meals & treats at home, as opposed to pre-bought or dining in a restaurant
- ☐ Craft your own ornaments instead of purchasing them
- ☐ Plan a scavenger hunt for the kids to find smaller, inexpensive gifting items (i.e. gum, stickers, markers, etc.)
- ☐ Make donations in your family's name instead of giving gifts
- ☐ Don't forget, this is a massive sale season! Take advantage of different store discounts for gifts
- ☐ Decorate your tree with household items - string things like popcorn & berries on a thread and drape them like garland
- ☐ Bake your Christmas gifts!
- ☐ Sell your older/used toys or clothes to a consignment shop in exchange for cash to purchase new ones
- ☐ Take your family Christmas caroling, spreading joy to others
- ☐ Consider charitable activities, like taking Christmas treats to the elderly in a nursing home
- ☐ Pack Christmas stockings with fruit to help fill space

- ☐ Offer a holiday journal or diary to your children in which they learn to record reasons for which they are grateful
- ☐ Craft your own decorations at home! Some ideas to get you started: <https://goo.gl/mmFN4n>
- ☐ Re-gifting - it's not as terrible as you think! And it's really quite common. Save yourself some bucks, and repurpose the treat basket or bottle of wine
- ☐ How about a family holiday photo in PJ's? Don't purchase expensive clothing for this annual photo - try a casual one this year!
- ☐ Save on your winter electric bill by NOT using lights on your Christmas tree, but rather decorating with other shiny objects like lame tinsel and silky ribbons
