

How to Choose the Best Awning for Your Business

If you are interested in ordering awnings, canopies, umbrellas, pergolas or café barriers, Shades Awnings and Canopies can offer you different types of products of various colours and designs.

- ☐ Awnings are the most functional sunshade systems. They are external tents, the main task of which is protection from the sun. The awnings consist of a supporting metal structure and a reflective fabric. Previously, the awnings were only manually-operated, but modern models are equipped with an electric drive, which allows either to connect them to the Smart Home system or to control them using a remote control. But there are also non-retractable types of awnings that are installed permanently and have no control.
- ☐ Where are they used?
- ☐ Most often, awnings are used to shade the terraces, but also for protection from rain, side wind or other unexpected weather conditions. The awnings are very aesthetic and therefore are safely used for shading windows and terraces, the organization of shopping pavilions and summer cafes, decoration of the facade of the building, and also as an advertising medium.
