☑ You must have your background check done before applying for your license.

➔ Get this done while you are studying to take the exam. Once you take the test, apply for a license, and they will have your background check.

 ☑ In Some states, you have to take the exam first before you can do a background check.

 There is a fee for applying for your license, background check, and taking the exam. Typically it is around $80 to $220. Each state will vary

🔗 There is a practice exam at the end, which we recommend getting high 80s on twice. You need 70% to pass the test in person. You don't need to become an expert on this stuff; just get the license done. Your actual training will be out in the field.
