

15 Things to Consider BEFORE You Decide to Sell Your Small Business

Selling your business is a big decision. Your business is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Your preparation before selling your small business can increase the value to your buyer - and the profit for you.

- Is it time to sell your small business?
  - 1. Once on the market, it is common to take 6-11 months to sell, according to BizBuySell's Insight Report. <https://www.inc.com/bob-house/how-long-it-actually-takes-to-sell-a-small-business.html?>
  - 2. Choose your timing and sell your business when you can get the best price, you have the time to sell and the economy is on an upswing.
  - 3. Consult a tax attorney for the ideal options on when and how to sell your business.
  - 4. Invest in valuing your company How to value your business: <https://www.inc.com/john-warrillow/how-to-value-your-business.html>
  - 5. Use a third-party to engage buyers to maintain your confidentiality such as a business broker or an M&A advisor.
  - 6. Present your financials to show your financial history and growth potential.
  - 7. Focus on the deal, not the price. Consider tax implications, intangibles, and non-financial compensation.
  - 8. Use a NDA Non-Disclosure Agreements to help protect your confidentiality.
  - 9. Be prepared to explain WHY you're selling your business. Most buyers will ask.
  - 10. Research your prospective buyer so you know who you're doing business with.
  - 11. Determine your buyer's motives and priorities and why they want to buy your business.
  - 12. Remember a family sale is also a business transaction.
  - 13. Be specific about what you are selling - and what you AREN'T selling.
  - 14. Have a management team in place so you are selling a working business, not one that is dependent on your presence.
  - 15. Write an exit strategy so you have a roadmap to follow for before, during and after the sale of your business, and nothing gets overlooked or forgotten during negotiations.
